Haydn & Rollett's joinery team brought their 'A game' to this new build at Cambells Bay on Auckland's North Shore, giving it the kind of attention to detail and quality of materials it deserved.

The kitchen has high-end stone benchtops, fully integrated appliances, state-of-the-art handles and small but telling touches such as LED lighting under the island top, while the bathrooms' mirrored cabinets are all equipped with de-mister pads and LEDs. In the lounge, a credenza unit and floating shelves subtly echo the lines of the fireplace.

The programme also included wardrobes, a laundry and extensive shelving in the study, and Haydn & Rollett supplied machined American white ash for a walkway upstairs. Throughout, the team worked to achieve a natural, relaxed but high-quality look.
