In 2023, Haydn and Rollett supplied the joinery for Ballantynes' new retail outlet in Invercargill. One of the larger elements was the RM Williams' store display, with the Australian boot and clothing brand specifying a very particular combination of joinery that exactly matched its other stores around the world – namely, 'Sorrel' Melteca board shelves and 'Snowdrift' HPL display boxes.

The RM Williams' display also include a fair amount of metalwork and even some leatherwork. Elsewhere, the team created some curved seating using HPL and finished with upholstery cushions; a point-of-sale counter with HIMACS acrylic used for the benchtop surfaces; and a massive wall of 'Black Wilderness' Melteca cabinets.
