Haydn & Rollett's history with international cabinetry hardware specialist Blum has involved a number of sizeable projects, including the construction of a new warehouse and office-showroom in Christchurch and a warehouse extension and two-storey annexe in Auckland.

This latest project was more modest, entailing stripping back the existing fit-out of Blum's Avondale showroom, relocating services and constructing interior walls to create a new layout for displays. Because the rest of the showroom remained open to the public for the duration of the project, particularly noisy tasks were tackled outside opening hours.
