As part of a more extensive involvement at the Albany Mega Centre, Haydn & Rollett took the interior of an existing JD Sports store back to base build and stripped and updated the façade. Other than the complications inherent in maintaining public access to a live site, the main challenge here was creating the brick pattern for the new façade. When digital printing the ACM panels didn't achieve the desired effect, a vinyl-wrap was used instead. In addition to the work at JD Sports, the team refreshed the façade and signage for a nearby Farmers outlet.
