A fresh, practical joinery package has transformed the reception and customer areas at Toyota Papakura. Based on a proven design developed for this repeat client, the scope included the reception counter, kitchen facilities and staff lockers.

The reception counter is the standout feature, combining Candy White HI-MACS with lacquer-finished end-grain birch plywood to create a light, natural appearance. Due to its size, the counter was fabricated in sections in the workshop, then assembled and detailed onsite.

Close collaboration with the architect ensured the joinery met the client's brief, while an experienced Haydn & Rollett site team supported a smooth installation.
